

Beyond Leadership

Living and working in a world of V.U.C.A

MCE Executive Updates are interactive events on key business topics.

The past few years have been the most Challenging, Interesting, and most Stressful times of our lives. We are living and working in a world of V.U.C.A - An acronym to appropriately describe the global status of the world as: Volatile, Uncertain, Complex and Ambiguous times.

Today's leaders need to go beyond the methodologies of trendy leadership and especially outdated practices. Instead, they must turn more inward to continually adapt their attitudes, behaviours and evolve perceptions about their people and the business. Upskilling alone will never be the single solution to navigate these times.

They must make the commit to updating their leadership power base while also connect the dots. Even the most experienced Manager needs to utilize knowledge, business expertise, to bridge the gap between department goals and stakeholder value. In doing so they will have a greater chance at successfully collaborating their teams to work towards the big picture goals of the organization even in a world of V.U.C.A.

This Executive Update covers:

- Learn how mindset impacts your range of leadership power.
- Identify how to leverage your leadership awareness to expand your range of impact as a team leader.
- Learn how to integrate "learning agility" with "line of sight" to leverage your team's collaboration towards organizational goals.
- Bridge the gap between knowledge/expertise and practice with CPM empowering domains.

This Executive Update is perfect for:

H&R Managers, Organisational Development Practitioners, Managers and Executives.
